

Lisa Desmond Named Executive Director of Ingleside at Home

Director of Homecare Services Will Lead First Ingleside Home and Community Based Service

Washington, D.C. – Ingleside, a premier not-for-profit provider of comprehensive senior living services in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area, has selected Lisa Desmond as executive director for Ingleside at Home.

Ingleside at Home is a new service that will provide a wide-range of home care options to assist current residents and seniors in their homes. This program will be available to all three Ingleside campuses- Ingleside at Rock Creek, Westminster at Lake Ridge and Ingleside at King Farm- and the greater community.

“We are honored to have Lisa continue her leadership for our new program,” said Ingleside chief operating officer Libby Bush. “Lisa’s extensive healthcare experience made her the ideal person for this role as we expand our vision of creating diverse and engaging opportunities for seniors.”

Desmond comes to this role after serving as the director of home care at Westminster at Lake Ridge (WLR), the pilot program for this new Ingleside service. Her achievements and leadership at the WLR Home Care program have been noteworthy as service offerings expanded and technology was implemented on multiple levels, resulting in industry honors for excellent staff and client satisfaction.

Desmond is a registered nurse with master’s degrees in business administration and nursing, with a specialty in Health Care Management. She received her bachelor’s of science in nursing from the University of South Carolina. Desmond has an accomplished background as a home health nurse, and has practiced across the country during her career.
